

What is the West End Project?

The West End Project is a £35 million public realm project bringing exciting improvements to the heart of Camden's busy West End.

The project will deliver a bold vision for the future of the area which currently suffers from traffic congestion, narrow pavements, poor air quality and a lack of public spaces.

To help the area to continue to grow and flourish and to address these issues, the project will deliver a number of exciting schemes. This includes making Tottenham Court Road and Gower Street both two way to traffic. On Tottenham Court Road access will be restricted to buses and cyclists only during key times. On Gower Street new protected cycle lanes will be added, in addition to a new pedestrian crossing in front of UCL. New public spaces will be created in Princes Circus and Alfred Place.

What will it look like?

Bespoke high quality changes will be delivered in each location. To give you an idea of what these changes will look like, here is a projected image of Tottenham Court Road. After the works are completed this road will be two way to traffic and restricted to buses and cyclists only from 8am to 7pm Monday to Saturday.

New paving and road surface will be laid using high quality material and the historic lamp posts restored.

How can I find out more?

To find out more about the project please visit www.camden.gov.uk/westendproject where you can also sign up to receive a regular email newsletter. If you have any concerns or queries you can contact us via westendproject@camden.gov.uk . You can also watch a short video which shows how some of the other areas will look once the project is completed.

If you would prefer to meet face to face to find out more about the project or raise concerns, the contractors Eurovia will have an onsite presence. More details on this and further opportunities to hear about the project locally, will be shared with you shortly.
